

"YES" OR "NO" WATER BONDS

Today's Election Tells the Story.

Both Sides Have Been
Discussed in the Press.

Opponents Admit That Bonds Will Carry, but Say Opposition Has Done Good.

Shortly after 7 o'clock this evening it will be known whether Salt Lake City voters have decided that bonds to the extent of $1,000,000 are to be issued. The polls will be open from 7 a. m. until 7 p. m. All citizens of Salt Lake City who have paid a personal or property tax during the year 1904 are entitled to vote if they were registered for the general election or at the special registration days appointed by the City Council.

City Recorder Critchlow will keep his office open until 10 o'clock tonight. Judges have been instructed to send the returns there as soon as they are all counted. It is expected that all of the districts will be reported tonight.

Has Been Ample Discussed.

Ample discussion of the merits of the water scheme and the big sewer, for which $10,000 of the bonds are asked, has taken place in the press. The majority of the opinions published seem to be in favor of the scheme. The Commercial club voted to approve the plan proposed by the Mayor and the special committee. The Real Estate association is divided, but prominent members endorse the plan also.

There has been every chance for the objectors to express their views. A statement was prepared by Mayor Morris, the special water committee of the City Council and a special committee of prominent citizens, and was distributed in every home and office in the town, so the voters have had an ample chance to learn what the city administration proposes to do.

Some of the labor unions on Sunday voted to endorse the scheme. That card was issued, signed by various unions, recommending the passing of the bonds.

Almost Certain to Carry.

Comment made yesterday indicated that it is the general opinion that the election can result only one way—in favor of the bonds. The most active of those opposed to the proposition admit that, one of them predicting that about four to one will be the ratio of the votes for and against the bonds. John E. Dooly said that a very light vote would be polled and that there was a chance for either side to win by making an active effort to get out the voters. He professed to know of no effort of the kind being contemplated by either side.

Real estate men who prevented their organization from endorsing the scheme, justify their action by saying that, had the association approved the plan unqualifiedly, it would have been in no position afterward to have demanded of the City Council additional changes of the original plan, which, it might develop later, would be in the interest of the taxpayers. Being the only real estate body in the city that has withheld endorsement, it is pointed out that the Real Estate association may be in position to render the community valuable service, whereas, had it given endorsement, a protest would be entirely out of order. While conceding the great need of the contemplated improvements, and the certainty that the bonds being carried, the real estate dealers insist that they have already done the city a great service by securing important changes in the contract with the farmers, and that their good offices may not yet be ended.

COULSON HAD THE WATCH.

Property Recovered in Quick Time by the Police.

It took about twenty minutes after George Ritz had been robbed to capture Robert Coulson with the plunder on his person, yesterday morning. Patrolman Moore made the arrest on Commercial street, as the result of a report of the theft.

Coulson is a private in the Twenty-ninth United States infantry. He and Ritz were in the same shooting gallery yesterday morning. Ritz laid down his coat and vest. When he took the garment up, an open-faced nickel watch was absent. He immediately reported the matter to the police station, together with the fact that he suspected Coulson. He gave a description of the latter.

Patrolman Moore was furnished with this description. The officer identified the wanted man. He arrested him and found the watch in one of his pockets. Coulson will be charged with petit larceny.
